

PCDI has the following positions to offer:

Teaching Parents -A couple, to live in and supervise a group home intervention program for 5 adults with autism. Both members of the couple are responsible for managing a household for five adults with autism in a community-based group home in Ewing, New Jersey. Responsibilities include assisting in the development of learners' instruction and treatment goals—special emphasis is placed on home, and community-living skills, collecting and summarizing data on learner performance, interacting with parents, siblings, and neighbors, and ensuring that interventions are designed to improve the quality-of-life experience by the residents. The home is designed to provide high levels of instruction in a family setting. The couple is supported by two full-time professionals (Associate Therapists) and a trainer consultant. Ongoing training in autism intervention, administrative support, and career-development opportunities will be provided. PCDI would prefer that one member of the couple have a college degree and some experience working with people with autism or other developmental disabilities. Highly qualified individuals currently enrolled in a college or university will be considered for free supervision for BCBA certification. 2:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. weekdays, some weekends. Email resume, cover letter and how you learned about PCDI to applicants@pcdi.org, or fax to: Gregory S. MacDuff, Ph.D., 609-924-4119. AA/EOE.
